ALL AGOG AT RURAL HALL.

There is a Wild Beast Loose in The Woods.

ATTACKS NOTHING BUT DOGS.

The Slaughter of Canines Has Been Going on for Months--Lives in Vast Piece of Woods.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Winston, Jan. 18.—Undeniable evidence has been found of the presence of some wild beast in the woods around Rural Hall. Whatever the animal is, it attacks only dogs, harming nothing else around the yard. The dog is attacked, his throat cut and his body eaten from his heart to his hind quarter and his bones cleaned of all meat.

The animal has been seen only once, but he could not be distingushed from the dog which was being attacked and disappeared in the darkness. The depopulation of the dogs has been going on for six or seven months, but at first attracted little attention, the report being circulated by the boys. But an eye witness tells of the attacks the animal has made, and of the dead bodies of two dogs seen Monday morning. The only theory advanced is that there being about 6,000 acres of thickly studded woodland around Rural Hall and running thence almost unbroken to Sauratown mountains. It must have its habitat there.

SPOILED A ROSY ROMANCE.

The Young Man Reckoned Without His Mother-in-Law.

There was a pretty little romance made and spoiled yesterday—made by two young hearts that longed to be one and spoiled by an irate mother. George Parker, a young farmer living near town, had been making eyes at Miss Hattie Andrews, who lives across the railway, on Washington street, with her parents.

Miss Andrews finally consented to be led to the altar with her parents, consent or without. He said without and she agreed. But the joy was just too much for his youthful heart, and like the deep young man he was, he took another fair maiden into his confidence and she took the nearest way to the house of his intended and told the mamma.

Meantime, though, the youth and his intended sought out in haste the Rev. J. B. Tabor, a few miles away and, the license being alright, he had made them one. Their marital existence was brief. The deceived mother swooped down in a buggy and bore away the bride of an hour. The groom disappeared and has not been heard from since.

The father of Miss Andrews, or Mrs. Parker, as you please, has returned and is breathing threats and damage suits against everybody from the register of deeds to the groom.

Garland Daniel Won.

Garland Daniel has a new horse today of which he is justly proud. It is the fine saddle horse raffled off by Jno. Weatherly. The horse is valued at $110 or thereabouts and cost Mr. Daniel just $5, that being the amount invested in tickets.

The lucky number was 114 and the total number of tickets was in the neighborhood of 170.

Mr. Daniel spent part of the morning aronnd at the stables looking at his prize.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 17.—One of the most notable Grand Juries ever drawn in the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey is that which will be sworn in on Tuesday at the opening of the January term of court. The panel will include several millionaires, among them George J. Gould, an ex-United States Senator, four Mayors, and several other persons of prominence.

Mr. McIntire, of Thomasville, is spending the day in the city.

Will Retire From Business.

Messrs. Forsyth & Winslow, will soon retire from business. They have for sometime been conducting a produce, grain and feed business on Buchanan street, and the property occupied by them being recently purchased by the Southern Railway, they will soon have to give possession.

Not being able to secure a desirable location, these gentlemen have decided to go out of business soon. The Telegram hopes that they will not remain out long, but they will find a suitable place to continue their business.

Ladies' Day at the Club.

The Board of Governors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Club met last night and decided that hereafter Thursday of each week will be ladies' day. On that day those ladies who have been invited by members of the club will have access to the club rooms. It was also decided to give a reception at the club once a month. The first of these receptions will be given on the 22nd of February—Washington's birthday—and will be a social event.

German Tomorrow Night.

Arrangements have been perfected for what will be the swellest german of the season. It will be given by the young ladies tomorrow evening at Bogart hall complimentary to the Crocail Club. The hours will be from 9:30 to 2. The hall will be decorated in the Club's colors, white and gold, and the Greensboro Orchestra will furnish music.

To Double the Shops.

The Salisbury World has it from the best authority that in the event that the lease suit is decided in favor the Southern, it will double the capacity of its shops there. The company has had this matter in contemplation for some time, and it proposes in the event mentioned to make the Spencer Shops second to none in the South. The employment of double the force which the Southern now has would mean a pay-roll to Salisbury railroad men of nearly $100,000 per month.

Carried to the Pen.

Sheriff Hoskins left this morning for Raleigh having in custody Isaiah Hairston and Millie Lee who go to the penitentiary for fifteen and ten years respectively. They were tried at the May term, 1897, for criminal assault on a little white girl and the court pronounced the above sentence upon them. The case was appealed to the Supreme court, where the judgment of the court below was affirmed.

STRIKING MILL OPERATIVES

Situation at the Varions Mills is Unchanged.

ATTEMPTS AT VIOLENCE CEASED

A Few of the Hands Return to Work but for the Most Part Operatives Idle and Mills Closed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New Bedford, Jan. 18.—Not one of the cloth mills here made an attempt to run this morning. The experience yesterday, especially the incipient riot at the Bristol mill, showed that popular feeling is so intense that it would be unsafe to make an effort to resume operations. The thousand operatives are very quiet and everything seems to have settled down to a waiting battle.

SITUATION AT BRADEFORD.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Bradeford, Me., Jan. 18—The strike situation is unchanged from yesterday. The Pepperel, Laconic and York Mills have shut down and there is every indication of a prolonged struggle. The committee of York operatives will call on agent Page today and endeavor to secure an adjustment of the grievances due to the reduction.

QUIET AT LEWISTON.

Lewiston, Me., Jan. 18—Everything is quiet at the cotton mills this morning. At Androscoggin, the only mill where trouble exists, a crowd gathered about the gates, but no violence was offered to those who passed through to work. There are few operatives in each of the departments except those of the spinners who are back.

WEAVERS STRIKE.

Fitchburg, Mass., Jan. 18—The weavers of the Nickage cotton mill struck yesterday, compelling the factory to close. They are working this morning and have decided to accept the reduction if it does not exceed 6 per cent.

WOOLEN MILLS CUT.

Laurence, Mass., Jan. 18—The operatives of the Brightwood manufacturing company, at North Andover today, refused to accept a reduction of 16 per cent. The mill manufactures woolen goods.

HOSIERY KNITTERS STRIKE.

Laconia, N. H., Jan. 18.—The hosiery knitters of the Hodgson Hold Company's factory struck today against a ten per cent. reduction of wages.

GENERAL BLANCO WILL RESIGN.

So Soon as the Government is Dissatisfied With His Policy.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Key West, Jan. 18.—It is stated in Havana that General Blanco will resign as soon as the government at Madrid is dissatisfied with his policy.

Havana is still much alarmed and all streets leading to the park have extra guards. The insurgents have attacked the town of Cono near Havana again and a large Spanish force has been sent in haste to protect the town.

Several emissaries of autonomy have been captured and executed as traitors recently.

SPAIN HELD SUPPLIES.

Intended For the Starving Cuban Reconcentrados.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 18—It is announced at the State department that the action of the Spanish authorities in temporarily holding the supplies consigned to General Lee for distribution among the starving reconcentrados in Havana and other towns was due to the Cuban riots. The department adds that there is no doubt that all the articles will be delivered to General Lee and properly distributed among the sufferers.

A New Cotton Mill.

A new cotton mill, with $60,000 capital stock, was yesterday incorporated by the Secretary of State. The incorporators are W. L. Holt, E. H. Williamson, L. A. Williamson, J. W. Menefee and Herbert Lutterloh, all of Fayetteville, under the corporate name of the "Holt-Williamson Manufacturing Company."

The par value of the shares of stock to be issued shall be $100. Business may be commenced whenever $35,000 of the $60,000 capital stock is paid in. The privilege is given of increasing the capital stock to $200,000.—News and Observer.

A STEAMER ASHORE?

A Report That Cannot Be Verified Nor Denied.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 18—It is rumored here that the steamer City of Seattle has gone ashore at some point between here and Alaska. It is impossible to confirm the report or discover the origin of it. The City of Seattle sailed from here on Wednesday for Skaguay with five hundred passengers on board and six hundred tons of freight.

SUPERINTENDENT'S LETTER.

To Supervisors and Members of County Boards of Education.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 17—I write you in regard to orders given during the school year of 1896 and 1897 for public funds when there were no funds due the districts.

The committees had no authority to sign orders for money when there was none due the school for which they gave the order for school supplies, and the person or persons accepting these orders did so at his own risk.

The banks that bought such paper or orders did so upon their own responsibility. I feel sorry for the banks, but I feel more sorry for the children whose money is squandered.

Some counties in the state have been canvassed by agents who knew there was no money due the schools, and the committee knew they had no money to pay the extravagant orders they were giving.

It is a burning shame to see the hundreds of dollars of orders given for money when there was none, expecting to gobble up the money of the children for this fiscal year.

Do not spend one cent of the school money due from July 1st, 1897 to June 30th, 1898, to pay orders made by your predecessors in office.

If there was money due the districts for which the goods were bought at the time they were bought, and for the school year in which they were bought, then, of course, such orders must be paid, otherwise do not pay them.

Yours very truly,
C. H. Mebane,
Superintendent Public Instruction.

NOBLE LADY WEDS A SAILOR.

Daughter of the Marquis of Allesbury Marries a Sea Captain.

A special cable dispatch to the New York Sun from London says:

The Daily Mail records the romantic marriage of Lady Ernestine Brudenell-Bruce, eldest daughter of the Marquis of Allesbury, and Harry Brady Hunt, a merchant seaman and an Irishman.

Lady Ernestine is an enthusiastic yachtswoman, and was attending the Nautical School at Liverpool with a view of obtaining a master's certificate in order that she might command her own yacht.

The Board of Trade declined to give her a certificate, being barred from doing so by the regulations which exclude women from being masters of vessels. Her presence in Liverpool led to her acquaintance with Mr. Hunt, who was seeking a similar certificate, which was issued to him.

The pair were married quietly in Liverpool. None of the bride's relatives was present at the wedding. Mr. Hunt has been appointed master of a sailing vessel, and his wife will accompany him on his first voyage as a captain.

Enemies of Civil Service.

Every political trickster and ward worker, regardless of his party brand, is interested in the overthow of the civil service law, just as every boodler and thief is interested in the defeat of the police and all criminal prosecutions. If civil service has weak places they should be made strong and proof against attacks of gangs, but no honest man will attempt to defeat the principal of the law.—Chicago News.

How it is in London.

"I have noticed since coming to the United States that the word 'nigger,' as applying to the black people, isn't half so common in conversation or in newspapers as it is in my country," said Mr. George Norcross, of England, at the Ebbitt. "However, the term isn't meant offensively in Great Britain, and I suppose the colored people wouldn't be so apt to resent it over there, seeing that there is no discrimination against them on account of their race. The best hotels and theaters of London are open to their patronage, and they go anywhere that white people do. London is entirely too cosmopolitan to be affected by race prejudice, and every man stands on his own merit."—Washington Post.

A Churchill's Cousin Dies from an Accident—Being Tried on the Charge of Bucket Shopping.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington Jan. 18.—The strike of the New England cotton spinners is likely to have a congressional inquiry. Representatives of Southern States resent the statement made by northern mill owners that the South is ruining the North in its cotton manufacturing. These representatives say that there ought to be general congratulation because the South which has been so long depressed in business is making so enviable a record for industrial development.

BERI BERI.

Under the caption of the "Nature and Cause of Beri Beri," the New York Herald says:

"The symptoms resemble those of scurvey, with which the disease is sometimes confounded, and mainly refer to impoverishment of blood, dropsy, debility, oppression of breathing, irregular heart action, paralysis of the lower extremities and sometimes sleepiness.

"An insufficient and unvaried food supply, exposure to cold and wet, to extremes of temperature and certain undefined atmospheric and telluric influences are known to act as predisposing causes, while it is claimed that the specific origin of the disease is due to a micro-organism in the blood, the toxines from which affect the nerve distributions and blood supply in different parts of the body, giving rise to the dropsies and paralysis. Attention to diet, protection against the vicissitudes of weather, tonics and stimulants, combined with diuretic remedies, are the most efficacious methods of treatment. When, however, the disease has progressed sufficiently far to involve the vital parts in organic degeneration all hopes for ultimate cure must be necessarily abandoned.

Yes, we fancy that hope after that would be a vain and foolish thing. It would hardly be safe to look forward to a long and happy life in the peaceful bosom of your family once a thimbleful or so of beri beris had begun operations in the neurotic ganglia of your cerebro-spinal system or when locomotor ataxia has paralyzed the ordinary instruments of terrestrial peregrination. We trust that an attentive constituency will take warning, keep its feet dry and eat sufficiently.

The expressions of opinion from prominent citizens as published yesterday showed that there is a strong sentiment in favor of the proposed extension of the sewerage system of the city. A great many citizens stated specifically that they would favor a general extension only and not an extension in certain directions only. This is right and proper. Every part of the town should have access to the system. To do otherwise is to show an unjust discrimination against those property holders denied such access. The laying of an efficient sewerage system will have the effect of increasing realty values and all tax payers should be treated alike.

No newspapers of the country have a poorer understanding of popular opinion than the "great metropolitan dailies"—Washington Post.

The Post never uttered a sentence closer to the truth than that. The editor of the metropolitan daily has neither the time nor the opportunity to find out what the popular opinion really is. He has less inclination. There is no metropolitan daily in this country that cares a fig for popular opinion except in so far as it may effect circulation and advertising. And the readers of metropolitan papers are comparatively a small part of the total population.

New York's four hundred has taken up the cake walk and, bringing to it a rich experience gained in walks of devious sorts, will doubtless add some praise-worthy frills.

It is probable that by the time a "brighter iris shows upon the burnished dove" and the salmon in the Alaskan river are as thick as the gold nuggets and anti-fat is selling at a dollar a bottle in the Klondyke camps a solicitous paternal government will have collected a herd of reindeer for sending provisions thither over the snow—when there is not any snow.

Thinking yachtsmen for some time past have been considering the better plan for the improvement of the sport, which has not made the strides, in local waters particularly, that they feel should have taken place during the last year or two.—New York Herald.

This is the first intimation we have seen that a new variety of yacht has been invented whose favorite mode of locomotion is wading.

The condition of affairs in the Indian Territory growing out of the lack of proper jail facilities is distressing—Capt. Leo Bennett of the Territory.

A literal interpretation of which beautiful euphuism is that all the telegraph poles in the Territory have already been ornamented with at least one pendant.

If the New York dentist who pulled an actress' jaw out of place will perform the same kindly function for J. J. Corbett and Bobby Fitzsimmons a grateful country will settle the damage suits and slather him with blessings.

Charges of plagiarism against Mr. Hanna are likely to lead to much ransacking of "polite letter writers" and school boy composition books by enemies anxious to verify that outrageous slander on English literature.

It is noticeable that none of the accounts report a ring of pride in the voice of Senator Foraker when he presented the credentials of Marcus A. Hanna.

The Indianna inventor who is busy bottling sunshine is doubtless seeking consolation for not being a legislator in his neighboring state of Ohio.

THE FIRST NECESSITY.

Greensboro is Expected to Sustain Her Reputation for Progress.

TO THE EDITOR:—It has been said that cleanliness is next to Godliness. Whether this be true or not, it is a very strong suggestion that the chiefest of man's physical aims ought to be to keep himself and premises in a neat condition. His health demands it, and society demands it. Especially is this true when many men, drawn by enterprize and ambition, have congregated with their families and effects into a thriving city like Greensboro. In order to accomplish this end it is necessary to have, first, pure and wholesome water, second, a system of sewerage which will relieve every lot of its waste and refused water.

The first, Greensboro has, the second, it only has in a limited degree. The city authorities have decided upon submitting the question of completing the sewerage to a vote of the citizens on March 28th, 1898.

You will soon have the opportunity of aiding your fellowmen in establishing a health preserver as well as a comfort. What will your answer be? Certainly those who enjoy the benefits of the present sewer will not deny their neighbors the like privilege, at a less expense. To be sure those who have it not will rise to the demands of the situation and aid in establishing in Greensboro that which is of more importance than its electric lights or its paved streets—a complete sewerage for our city. It is as indispensable to the health and comfort of our city as are our banks to the business life. Why then defer or postpone that which ought to and will inevitably come? While our sister cities and the State at large are saying that "Greensboro is the livest and most progressive town in the State," let us not, by our own act, place an unmistakable condemnation upon this praise. B.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discouery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with la grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The Political Outlook.

"If the democrats get together, as there is every evidence that they will, and the republicans do nothing to satisfy the popular demand for silver legislation, they will be beaten overwhelmingly," said ex-Congressman Murphy, of Arizona, at the Arlington.

"The democracy seemed utterly routed in 1896, but we observe the party organizing with consummate skill in nearly every state, and see the republicans split into factions and demoralized. As a republican I dislike to see such a condition, but it is too evident to attempt any concealment of the facts.

"If there had not been promises held out that something would be done in behalf of silver, Mr. Bryan would have received thousands of votes more than he did. Throughout the west there isn't the slightest diminution of silver sentiment, but on the contrary the cause is gaining in strength all the time."—Washington Post.

DROWNED IN AN IMMERSION.

Woman Loses Her Life During the Ceremony of Baptism.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 17—Word comes tonight from Hamlim, Lincoln county, of a distressing accident on Ten Mile Creek, near there, this morning.

Rev. J. C. Enoch today closed a revival service in the Baptist church, and hundreds had gathered to see the ten converts baptized in Ten Mile Creek.

After seven candidates had been successfully immersed in the icy waters Mrs. Henry Keck, a woman weighing 200 pounds, was led into a stream. She apparently became unconscious from the cold water shock, and she sank.

Several men rushed to the rescue, but in the flurry she drowned. Efforts to resuscitate her proved unavailing. The other three converts were not immersed.

STAMPEDE GULLY.

HOW A WELL KNOWN RAVINE IN TEXAS GOT ITS NAME.

A Herd of 15,000 Cattle Stampeded at Night, and Before They Were Stopped 2,700 of Them Were Killed—Costly Blunder Made by a Mexican Cowboy.

One of the most desperate stampedes of cattle ever witnessed by a Texas cowboy, says Rev. J. B. Cranfill of Waco, Tex., occurred in 1876 on the prairie in the center of which now stands the town of McGregor. Fifteen thousand cattle and 25 cowboys participated in the exciting event. Mr. Cranfill was not a participant, but he tells the story as he got it from an eyewitness in The Independent. Late in the afternoon of July 4 there had been a lively thunderstorm that made the cattle nervous. At 10 o'clock at night, however, they seemed to be sleeping profoundly. Then the narrative proceeds as follows:

"The stars were all shining, and there was no cause at all for the arousing of the herd. They appeared to get up all at once, with a single purpose, and the roar that was heard seemed to come from a single throat. The Wilson brothers and their cowboys who were sleeping in their camp rushed to their ponies, who were grazing with the saddles and bridles on, and as fast as the bits could be replaced in their mouths they mounted and galloped to the flanks of the now disappearing mass, headed in the direction of the Brazos river."

The usual course on such occasions is to get in front of the herd—a risky piece of work—and start it to running in a circle. This attempt was made in this case.

"Some cattle can outrun others, and in this case there was a bunch of about 50 fully 20 yards in advance, and toward this leading group the two rescuers rode. Of the leading group, also, some were faster than others, and this group ran in a diamond shape, with two immense steers leading all. When Mr. Wilson and his companion reached the two leading steers, they began shooting their revolvers close to them, and in that way the bunch was made to oblique, and as the leading bunch of cattle obliqued the main stampede obliqued, and the first step in 'milling' had been taken. By this time the cattle were getting tired. Nearly five miles had been covered, and the breath of the leaders was coming short and painfully, but they were rushing on because the front cattle at this time knew as a matter of fact their only safety was in keeping up the run. Those behind were coming, and they were in the majority, and the leaders were compelled to run. There was real danger for the forward members of the stampede.

"In the invoice of articles contained in the regulation 'outfit' there is always some kind of stimulants, and but for the stimulants contained in Mr. Wilson's outfit it is possible that the stampede would have been halted without disaster. He had a Mexican along, one of the best cowboys in the southwest. This Mexican and his horse always reminded those who saw him ride of the fabled Centaur. He rode far forward and bent over, so that he and his horse appeared to be one animal. No horse, however rugged, 'wild and woolly,' had ever been able to unseat him. This Aztec had been to the little brandy runlet too often and had filled and emptied his tin cup with surreptitious intoxicants, so that his usual excellent judgment went awry. When he succeeded in getting mounted, after having fumbled with his bridle a good deal, he was far in the rear, and the stampede had gone past him, so that when he overtook the rear end he passed to the front on the other side and rode on the wrong flank.

"When he reached the head of the herd, he was just in time to defeat the maneuver, then under execution, of bending the moving mass from a straight line to a semicircle. Revolver in hand, disregarding the other men, he began shooting in the faces of the wild steers, and the effect of this was to straighten the run and bring the advance straight toward a precipice. This precipice was a wash in the prairie, forming a deep ravine fully 80 yards wide, and in a shorter time than it takes to tell of this contretemps the head of the column was pouring over, a horrible cascade of beef, plunging madly into destruction while fleeing from an imaginary danger.

"When Mr. Wilson and his lieutenants saw that it was impossible to save their cattle, they saved themselves by dexterously turning at right angles at full speed and riding out of the way. They next returned to the flank and held a council of war. A few seconds decided them, and all hands commenced shooting into the herd, the object now being to build a breastwork of carcasses and save the rear end from the destruction that had overtaken the front. The gully was nearly full of cattle by this time. They were snorting and bellowing, crashing and tearing, and still heaping up, and when the firing began the wounded ones tumbled over on the others, and in a short time the gully, like the sunken road at Waterloo, was bridged by carcasses. The herd surged up in billows, like an ocean, and bent now because it could not do otherwise. The semicircle was formed, and Wilson and his men crossed the gully below and rode around the opposite side and recrossed, and in a short time they had the cattle halted, forming an incomplete letter O, and there they stood, blowing, bellowing, shivering. All hands remained on watch all night, and in the morning, when a count was made, it was ascertained that 2,700 head were missing. There were afterward 2,700 pairs of horns taken from that gully. It was called Stampede gully for many years afterward, and perhaps will always with some people be remembered by that name."

Pork was the most highly esteemed flesh at a Roman table.

JUDGE DICK'S RESIGNATION.

Prepared in Anticipation of Long Illness From a Surgical Operation.

Judge Robert P. Dick, of the United States District Court of North Carolina, upon whom an operation was performed Saturday at the Johns-Hopkins Hospital, was resting easily yesterday, and no immediate serious results are anticipated. Judge Dick is seventy-four years of age, and this made the operation more serious than it would otherwise have been. No one is allowed to see him.

Before submitting to the knife of the surgeon Judge Dick wrote out his resignation from the Federal bench and placed it in the hands of his family. This was done in order that it might be forwarded to the President in case a long and disabling illness followed. The resignation has not yet been forwarded. Judge Robert M. Douglas, of the Supreme court of North Carolina, who is a son-in-law of Judge Dick, said yesterday that he thought the latter would not care to resume his duties, even if he fully recovered from his illness.

Judge Douglas, who married a daughter of Judge Dick, is a son of the late Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois. He first met Judge Dick at the Democratic national convention of 1860, which assembled in Baltimore and nominated Stephen A. Douglas for President. Judge Dick was a delegate from North Carolina and was the only one from that State who refused to secede. The others joined the convention which nominated Breckinridge.—Baltimore Sun.

RESIGNATION HANDED IN.

A Washington special to the Charlotte Observer of today says:

This morning Senator Pritchard handed the resignation of Judge Dick to the President. It is thought that Congressman Pearson has a candidate for the place. The prominent candidates already in the field are Virgil S. Lusk, H. G. Ewart, Charles Price, R. M. Douglas and G. H. Smathers.

Senator Pritchard and Assistant District Attorney Boyd are also mentioned for the vacancy just created. It is impossible, however, for Senator Pritchard to abandon his seat in the Senate to accept the judgeship. The confusion into which by mal-administration the affairs in the State have been thrown by Governor Russell and his inexperienced henchmen make it impossible for Senator Pritchard to loose his hand on the helm he now holds.

Assistant District Attorney Boyd might prefer to remain where he is, for he has already made a reputation second to none of his predecessors for legal ability and executive ability of the very highest order. He has not only fully maintained the reputation he had in the State, but he is now recognized in the Department of Justice as one of the ablest lawyers ever employed there. His standing there is a matter of gratification to every North Carolinian in this city. He has been able in many ways to prove the wisdom of Senator Pritchard when he nominated him for the high office he has so admirably filled.

Senator Pritchard informed the President today that he was not to be considered as a candidate for the western district judgeship. He suggested the appointment of Assistant Attorney General Boyd, but the President has Mr. Ewart in mind for the place. He so informed Senator Pritchard, and there the matter rests for the present.

A letter received here says that the operation performed on Judge Dick was entirely successful and his chances of recovery are excellent.

McCoy Challenges Fitzsimmons.

New York, Jan. 17.—Kid McCoy today challenged Robert Fitzsimmons to fight for the heavy-weight championship of the world, and has posted $1,000 to bind a match. He declares that he will fight no one but Corbett or Fitzsimmons, and that he can defeat either of them.

The State's Special Appropriation to Fayetteville Light Infantry.

The special state appropriation of $150 to the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry was yesterday sent to that organization.

This company, by reason of its refusal to lay aside the gray uniform and adopt the blue, is not a member of the State Guard, but it has been specially honored and distinctly recognized by the General Assembly of North Carolina and is by law entitled to "an amount equal to that paid to the other companies in the State Guard by the state."

It is the oldest organization in the state, and has participated in every war in which this country has been engaged since the date of the company's organization. It was engaged in the battle of Bethel, when the first North Carolina blood was shed, and was among those who fired the last shot at Appomattox.

It is over 100 years old, having been organized August 23, 1793. Though not a member of the State Guard, by reason of its refusal to adopt the regulation blue uniform, it has never failed to respond to the call of duty and express at all times its willingness to uphold the honor of North Carolina and obey the orders of its chief executors.—News and Observer.

A FESTIVE GENT.

He Demolished His Household Furniture for Pastime.

One G. O. Vaughn grew so full of himself and other things this morning that he was bound to find an outlet and so proceeded to demolish his household and kitchen furniture and otherwise make things pleasant for his family as a dutiful husband and father should. His wife ran screaming from the scene of festivities and attracted the attention of policeman Whittington who started toward the house when Mr. Vaughn took to his doughty heels and made for the city gas works. The floor of the house was covered with fragments of lamps, dishes, chairs, tables and other things. Policeman Whittington came up town and got a warrant for the man's arrest. He has several children. His wife is reported to have received some money from her people and her hubby is supposed to have taken this method of gently persuading her to turn it over to him. Vaughn has been up before.

A Young Postmaster.

Col. P. H. Lybrook passed through this morning returning to Winston from Washington where he has been for some time looking after the postoffice fight. He says he will enter upon his duties as postmaster at Winston at once, although the office will not be formally turned over to him before February 1st. The retiring postmaster, Ed. Wilson, has kindly offered to remain until that time and fully acquaint the new official with the run of things. The Winston office is a very important one, and it is quite a compliment to Mr. Lybrook that a man of his age, only 25 years, should receive the appointment.

The Drama "Cherry."

The drama "Cherry" was written especially for the Eagle Hose Company No. 7, and the 27th inst. will witness its first presentation before the public. The members of the Eagle Dramatic Club are rehearsing the play nightly and the players are each night more nearly identifying themselves with the characters they are to impersonate. A better array of local talent than the one that has been arranged by the Eagle Club would be hard to find and the public may be assured that they will see a play that is both interesting in itself and also that is skilfully handled.

Popular prices will be charged for admission.

His Arm in a "Sling."

Will O'Brien, salesman for Brown & Williamson, of Winston, passed through this morning going home. He has been in South Carolina and carried his arm in a sling from the effects of vaccination. Will says there are a great many more cases of small pox in South Carolina than are reported, and that it is mostly confined to the colored people.

Charming at All Seasons.

Dr. J. H. Wheeler has returned to the city after an absence of about three weeks in the eastern part of the State, and can be found at his office just south of the postoffice. The doctor says Morehead City is a charming place all the year round. That means that there are charms there in winter as well as in summer.

Our line of coats is somewhat broken in sizes and all we have on hand we propose to close out regardless of cost. As coats change so much in style, if we wait to see what next season brings forth we may get left, so have decided to make great sacrifices.

Come and take a good look at our Underwear. Have a nice line of Corset Covers from 12 1-2c for a good cambric waist, and a nice Hamburg trimmed front and back for 25c. Our gowns that were $1 we have marked 75c; good cambric with Hamburg trimming in Hubbard and Empire style. The skirts are in plain and umbrella ruffles, handsomely trimmed and ranging in price from 75c to $1. A nice line of Drawers from 25c to $1.25.
